and adjacency matrices Is it possible to convert a random matrix into its adjacency matrix? I'm interested in the case of an Erd?s-Renyi network. For instance, if I have the following random matrix: $\left(\begin{array}{cccc} 0.5 & 0.25 & 0.25 & 0.5 \\ 0.5 & 0 & 0 & 0 \\ 0.75 & 0 & 0 & 0 \\ 0.5 & 0.5 & 0.5 & 0.5 \\ \end{array} \right)$ Is it possible to convert it into its adjacency matrix, which is the following matrix: $\left(\begin{array}{cccc} 0 & 1 & 1 & 0 \\ 1 & 0 & 1 & 1 \\ 1 & 0 & 0 & 0 \\ 0 & 1 & 1 & 0 \\ \end{array} \right)$ A: Probably I got the interpretation of your question wrong. Here's an example with a 100x100 matrix of Erdos numbers where row and column sums are fixed to 2. A = RandomReal[{0, 1}, {100, 100}] + RandomReal[{0, 1}, {100, 100}] Now make a diagonally-correlated matrix M as M = SparseArray[{Band[{1, 1}] -> 1, Band[{1, 2}] -> 1, Band[{2, 2}] -> 1}] and then apply the rule to express A as M: (M.A).diagonal A: I think one might be

We are 20 F1 pilots. Upon graduation from Formula Student 2007 we started to talk about Ferrari and other Formula One teams. Then, we realized that we could not talk about the cars and the teams and we should be talking about Formula One. We chose the Ferrari as a specific example of a sport team. F1 drivers use exactly what they have learnt in other schools. They also have a racing school, a motorsport school, a management school and a media school, the less you know the better for you and the team. Our job is to take care of all the team's activities and to be the drivers for the team. Taking care of all the activities for the F1 team there is something we have to learn. If we look at the F1 car we think that the color is black and also the design of the car is quite typical. And then, we are the average driver.
When we touch the car we don't feel a particularity.
Since we cannot feel the car we are not able to drive the car, so we must use a skill and knowledge to control the car. By driving the car, we feel its control. After we have been driving the car and trying to know how it works, we realised that we should have a look at the electronic control systems.
We took a look at them, but we couldn't make sense of them. We looked at the F1 videos from the media, they are all shot from the cockpit so we can understand that the engineer has been controlling the car. F1 racing, is hard to drive and requires a special talent. The driver is the most important part of the team. The driver must know how to be fast, he must know how to overtake, he must be fast on the straight, on the bends, at the crest, at the corners. When the driver drives with a team he must like the car and the team, he must have a strong will and he must not feel tired. When the driver drives alone he must be fast and resist a lot of pressure. After taking all of these elements into account, we have been watching Formula One races for the last five years. Our team works for the Ferrari team. But sometimes other cars won. When we consider all the teams and the drivers we have been looking at all of them for a long time. Since we love cars and Formula One cars, we thought that it is time to take part in the F1 experience, we thought that we should design something for a
